An ACT to regulate the Claims to Invalid Penſions.

[Paſſed February 28, 1793.]

WHEREAS the act, paſſed at the laſt ſeſſion of Congreſs, intituled, "An act to provide for the ſettlement of the claims of Widows and Orphans barred by the limitations heretofore eſtabliſhed, and to regulate the claims of Invalid Penſions," is found by experience inadequate to prevent the admiſſion of improper claims to Invalid Penſions, and not to contain a ſufficient facility for the allowance of ſuch as may be well founded: Therefore,

BE it enacted by the Senate and Houſe of Repreſentatives of the United States of America, in Congreſs aſſembled, That the ſecond, third, and fourth ſections of the ſaid act be repealed, and that in future, all claims to ſuch Penſions ſhall be regulated in the manner following, to wit:

Firſt. All evidence relative to Invalids, ſhall be taken upon oath or affirmation, before the judge of the diſtrict in which ſuch Invalids reſide, or before any three perſons ſpecially authoriſed by commiſſion from the ſaid judge.

Secondly. The evidence relative to any claimant, muſt prove deciſive diſability to have been the effect of known wounds, received while in the actual line of his duty, in the ſervice of the United States, during the late war. That this evidence muſt be the affidavits of the commanding officer or ſurgeon of the ſhip, regiment, corps, or company, in which ſuch claimant ſerved, or two other credible witneſſes, to the ſame effect, ſetting forth the time and place of ſuch known wound.

Thirdly. Every claimant ſhall be examined upon oath or affirmation, by two phyſicians or ſurgeons, to be authoriſed by commiſſion from the ſaid judge, who ſhall report, in writing, their opinion, upon oath or affirmation, of the nature of the ſaid diſability, and, in what degree, it prevents the claimant from obtaining his livelihood by labour.

Fourthly. Every claimant ſhall produce evidence of the time of his leaving the ſervice of the United States. He muſt alſo produce evidence of three reputable freeholders of the city, town or county, in which he uſually reſided, for the two years immediately after he left the ſervice, as aforeſaid, of the exiſtence of his diſability, during that period; and aſcertaining, of their own knowledge, the mode of life, employment, labour, or means of ſupport of the claimant.

Fifthly. And the ſaid claimant muſt produce the evidence of two credible witneſſes, of the continuance of his diſability, from the expiration of the ſaid two years, to the time of his application.

Sixthly. Each claimant muſt ſhew a good and ſufficient cauſe why he did not apply for a penſion to the perſon or perſons authoriſed to examine his claim, on or before the eleventh of December, one thouſand ſeven hundred and eighty-eight, the time limited for applications of this nature.

Seventhly. No evidence of any claimant ſhall be admitted, whoſe claim has been examined and rejected, on or before the aforeſaid eleventh of December, one thouſand ſeven hundred and eighty-eight.

And be it further enacted, That the judge of the diſtrict ſhall tranſmit a liſt of ſuch claims accompanied by the evidence herein directed, to the ſecretary for the department of war, in order that the ſame may be compared with the muſter-rolls and other documents in his office; and the ſaid ſecretary ſhall make a ſtatement of the caſes of the ſaid claimants to Congreſs, with ſuch circumſtances and remarks, as may be neceſſary, in order to enable them to take ſuch order thereon, as they may judge proper.

And be it further enacted, That no perſon not on the penſion-liſt, before the twenty-third day of March, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety-two, ſhall be entitled to a penſion, who ſhall not have complied with the rules and regulations herein preſcribed, ſaving, however, to all perſons, all and ſingular their rights founded upon legal adjudications under the act, intituled, "An act to provide for the ſettlement of the claims of Widows and Orphans, barred by the limitations heretofore eſtabliſhed, and to regulate the claims to Invalid Penſions:" But it ſhall be the duty of the ſecretary at war, in conjunction with the attorney-general, to take ſuch meaſures as may be neceſſary to obtain an adjudication of the ſupreme court of the United States, on the validity of any ſuch rights claimed under the act aforeſaid, by the determination of certain perſons ſtyling themſelves commiſſioners.

And be it further enacted, That no claim to a Penſion ſhall be allowed under this act, which ſhall not be preſented within two years from the paſſing the ſame.

To the PUBLIC.

NOTWITHSTANDING all the endeavours of the ariſtocratic party to prevent the citizens of the United States from encouraging the work entitled MAN UNDECEIVED, which I propoſed to print by ſubſcription on the 25th February laſt, I feel myſelf happy in informing the true Republicans, that the ſame will be put without delay to the preſs, as the ſubſcription has been ſucceſsfully filled. Such unexpected ſucceſs I owe to the favor of ſeveral zealous friends, who diſtinguiſhed themſelves in the undertaking.

I think it unneceſſary to make any remarks at preſent reſpecting the work, as the world will ſoon be enabled to pronounce ſentence upon it: I hope therefore, that thoſe whoſe circumſtances are eaſy, and who hold the generous principle of democracy, will feel ſorry for their indifference with regard to ſubſcribing, inaſmuch as the work will confound the enemies of Republicaniſm. I ſhall, however, reſerve every remark upon this ſubject for the Appendix to the work.

I have the pleaſure to expreſs my public thanks to thoſe benevolent American Printers through the United States, who had the kindneſs to inſert my former advertiſement in their newſpapers, and I requeſt them to give the preſent a place, deſiring them to ſend me one of their papers containing it, that I may become acquainted with my friends, and ſend them a copy of the ſaid work, as a token of my gratitude.

Thoſe printers only ſhould take notice of this requeſt who are true republicans and friends to mankind, a character required only in the ſchool of democracy.

The houſe is 40 by 72 feet, and contains five floors, two ſtories of brick, and the upper part of fram'd work, executed in the moſt ſubſtantial manner—a commodious brick bake-houſe, with two ovens in complete order; a dwelling houſe on a very convenient plan for the accommodation of a large family, with a good ſtore-houſe, and its appendages; a convenient houſe for the miller and his aſſiſtants—alſo a fait ble houſe for the maſter-cooper and baker, and their aſſiſtants, and a ſufficient number of coopers ſhops; a ſtock of ſeaſoned ſtaves, and three or four thouſand barrels ready made, if wanted—there will be annexed to the works 40 acres of very fine land, in a beautiful ſituation, a conſiderable part of it fit for meadow. The mill and all the works are perfectly ſafe from the common injuries to peculiar to water works—the mills are work'd by the water of two creeks conducted by canals to a deep hollow which is formed into an artificial pond near the mill—the works have been eſtabliſhed near 10 years without any material accident when newly made, and now every part of the canals and their banks have become ſolid and firm—the tide water of James River flows to the mill door, and boats of 3 or 400 barrels burthen, can receive their load immediately at the mill, from whence 'tis about one mile to a fine harbour in James River, where ſhips of any burthen and at any ſeaſon, may load in ſafety—beſides the advantages of ſupplying the mills with wheat by means of ſo eaſe and eaſy navigation, the neighbourhood round the mills is extremely productive in wheat of the beſt quality—A further deſcription is thought unneceſſary.—Colonel John Pleaſants, who lives at the mills will ſhew the property, and Meſſrs. Thomas and John Pleaſants will contract either for the ſale or a leaſe for ſeven years.—A purchaſer on giving ſatisfactory ſecurity may have ſix years credit, paying intereſt from the date, and the payments divided into yearly inſtallments, or otherways, as may be moſt convenient to the purchaſer—If not ſold by the firſt day of Auguſt, the works will be leaſed to the higheſt bidder on the firſt day of September, upon the premiſes, for ſeven years, under the uſual covenant of making due payment of the rents, and keeping and delivering the works in repair: In caſe a ſale of this property takes place by the date aforeſaid, public notice ſhall be immediately given to ſave the trouble and expence of applications for a leaſe. The advantageous ſituation of the works—the commodious and complete manner in which the whole is executed—the increaſing commerce of Virginia, particularly in wheat and flour, with the natural advantages of this county, are circumſtances which cannot eſcape the intelligent, and requires no comment from the proprietors.
